

Fall 2020 Workshop Schedule

For more information on these events visit advance.unm.edu/events

Building a Career You Enjoy

Lightning Lounge

Sept 9, Oct 14, & Nov 11- 4:00-5:00
Virtual via Zoom

Join colleagues in a relaxing environment for 7-minute talks about their research and scholarship. Time will be available for questions and networking during and after the event.

Success on the Promotion and Tenure Trail

New Associate Professor Orientation: Succeeding with New Expectations, Enjoying New Opportunities

September 25- 12:00-1:00 pm
Virtual via Zoom

Hear from UNM's Senior Vice Provost for Academic Affairs Barbara Rodriguez and ADVANCE at UNM director Julia Fulghum. Some of you have already experienced "Congratulations! Here's a committee...", and it is easy to overlook (particularly right now) the new opportunities tenure brings. They'll address both aspects, with time for questions. We'll also do a quick poll to see what you'd like to hear about in future sessions. You get to decide!

New Associate Professor Orientation: Q&A with Provost James Holloway and Senior Vice Provost Barbara Rodriguez

October 23, 12:00-1:00 pm
Virtual via Zoom

A special session with Provost Holloway, for recently promoted associate professors. Come ask your questions! We'll be providing our drop-us-a-line link to collect questions you may want to ask anonymously

Mid-Pro: Now What?

October 28, 2:00-3:00 pm
Virtual via Zoom

You're more than half-way to applying for tenure and promotion! What steps should you take next? What resources exist to help you move forward in response to your mid-pro evaluation letter?

Research Success Series

(Open to all faculty)

New Opportunities for Interdisciplinary Research & Education at UNM

September 18, 12:00-1:00 pm
Virtual via Zoom

Hear from leaders of interdisciplinary efforts about opportunities to engage in collaborative research and meet new colleagues. Presenters will be Melinda Morgan, Director of Sustainability Studies Program; Frances Hayashida, Director of Latin American and Iberian Institute; and Christopher Lippitt, Faculty Coordinator for the Interdisciplinary Science Cooperative.

Using Wrong-Thinking and Universal Design in Your Research Planning

October 30, 12:00-1:00 pm
Virtual via Zoom

Join us to learn innovative strategies to discover some of the hidden barriers that limit the scope of your research planning and consequently the application of your results. Heather Canavan, Professor in the Chemical and Biological Engineering department, and Nancy Lewis, Director of the UNM Innovation Academy's Canopy for Creative Collaboration, will illustrate the use of Wrong-Thinking and Universal Design in research planning.

Research and Scholarship Resources

November 13, 12:00-1:00 pm
Virtual via Zoom

Join interim AVPR Mary Jo Daniel and Faculty Research Support Officers for information about resources and opportunities that can assist with next steps in your research, scholarship and creative work.

Women Influencing Policy- Brown Bag Series

(Open to all faculty)

The Algorithmic Justice Project

October 27, 12:30-1:30 pm
Virtual via Zoom

The Algorithmic Justice Project brings an interdisciplinary perspective to the evaluation of the role and impact of algorithms in society. What are algorithms? Where are they used in ways that impact society? Bring your questions and concerns to this discussion! Presenters are Melanie Moses (Computer Science) and Sonia Gipson Rankin (School of Law).

** Events require registration

For more information on these events visit advance.unm.edu/events